

A Fellow of the College of Labor and Employment Lawyers has provided this form to you as part of the process of nominating you as a neutral provider of dispute resolution services for membership in The College of Labor and Employment Lawyers. Please complete this form and return it to the nominator for submission to the College. The standards for admission to the College are high and admission is limited in number. Thus, a candidate may not be admitted in a given year for reasons wholly unrelated to his or her qualifications. If you are not selected, the nomination forms will be destroyed and any new nomination will be considered without regard to the prior forms.

The qualifications for election are set forth in Articles II and III of the By-Laws of the College. The By-Laws require that nominees have been in the field of labor and employment law for at least 20 years and have proven to their peers, the bar, bench and public that they possess:

- ◆ The highest professional qualifications and ethical standards;
- ◆ The highest level of character, integrity, professional expertise and leadership;
- ◆ A commitment to fostering and furthering the objectives of the College;
- ◆ Sustained, exceptionally high quality dispute resolution services to parties, bar, bench and public; and
- ◆ Significant evidence of scholarship, teaching, lecturing, and/or distinguished published writings on labor and employment law.

In addition to the traits described above, a Fellow is expected to display other traits in the day-to-day practice of law. The list below is by no means complete, but is provided to nominators and nominees for their guidance in determining whether a candidate meets the expectations for a Fellow.

A Fellow is an individual who:

- ◆ Would stand out as a model of professionalism in deportment and impartiality; a person who should be emulated by other providers of dispute resolution services;
- ◆ Has earned the respect of the labor and employment law bar, of the dispute resolution profession, and of the community;
- ◆ Displays civility to parties, witnesses, and advocates in providing dispute resolution services;
- ◆ Avoids allowing ideological differences to affect his or her provision of dispute resolution services;
- ◆ Competently manages parties' activities in negotiations, discovery, motion practice, hearings, and other dispute resolution proceedings;
- ◆ Keeps confidential information that parties have not authorized the individual to disclose;
- ◆ Acts in such a way as to facilitate the parties' resolution of disputed issues;
- ◆ In adjudicatory proceedings, decides issues impartially and consistently with the record and application law;
- ◆ Is a student of the law; and
- ◆ Actively participates in the Labor and Employment Bar and contributes to the advancement of the law.

LEADERSHIP FOR GREATER PURPOSE

Part B – Nominee Form For Arbitrators, Mediators And Other Neutrals Who Do Not Serve As Advocates

(Directions: This form is specifically designed for neutral providers of dispute resolution services. If, in addition to those services, you also represent clients as an advocate or did so within the past ten years, you must also complete question number 18.)

1. Your full name:

2. Dispute resolution service you provide:

3. Your office address, telephone, fax and email:

4. Your residence address, telephone, fax and email (not required but desired):

5. Your place and date of birth:

6. Your undergraduate and legal education (degrees obtained, schools, and years):

7. State and year in which you were originally admitted to the Bar:

8. Subsequent state and federal bar admissions and the year of admission:

9. Please attach a resume which includes specific dates and descriptions of your work in the labor and employment law field to demonstrate you meet the requirement that more than fifty percent of your work has involved labor and employment law issues during twenty years of your legal career.

17. References are an extremely important part of the diligence phase. Please confirm with all of your references, particularly judges, their willingness to provide a reference reply to the College's inquiry. Failure to do so may result in a deferral of your nomination.
Electioneering or campaigning is considered inappropriate and strongly discouraged.

Please provide names, addresses, phone and email for at least six and no more than eight lawyers, judges, parties or other persons who can attest to your professional standing, integrity and leadership in the profession and community. Where appropriate a broad array of references, including parties who have used your services, is strongly encouraged, with an emphasis on the last ten years. Active practitioners should include the names and addresses of four attorneys who have appeared before you as part of your list of references. Please do not include the names of your nominators or law partners.
(Please use additional paper if necessary.)

18. If you also serve as an advocate, or did so within the past ten years, please consider the following additional traits relevant to that role, and then list at least three and no more than six additional lawyers, judges, clients or other persons who can attest to your professional standing, integrity and leadership in the profession and community in your role as an advocate. Include at least two regular adversaries. Do not include the names of your nominators or law partners. (Please use additional paper if necessary.)

- ◆ Would stand out to newer attorneys, as a model of professionalism in department and advocacy; a person who should be emulated;
- ◆ Has earned the respect of the bench, opposing counsel and the community;
- ◆ Displays mutual respect in an adversarial relationship;
- ◆ Presents an accurate picture of outcomes to clients;
- ◆ Avoids allowing ideological differences to affect civility in negotiations, litigation and other aspects of law practice;
- ◆ Engages in complete but not excessive discovery;
- ◆ Seeks and agrees to reasonable accommodations on matters such as continuances;
- ◆ Knows the workplace and has an active interest in resolving employment issues;
- ◆ Is a student of the law; who engages in negotiations with an objective of agreement; and
- ◆ Pursues settlement at appropriate stages in a proceeding.

LEADERSHIP FOR GREATER PURPOSE

19. Please review the qualifications for membership, as stated in the by-laws, as well as the desirable traits that the organization has further identified for membership, and attach a brief statement of how you believe that you demonstrate these characteristics in your practice. Please select at least three characteristics to address with specificity in your statement, plus any additional information that you believe relevant to consideration of your nomination for admission to the College.

I certify that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the foregoing information is true.
